

BROOKINGS B.E.S.T.

Jennifer Riedel

Behavior Technician at Brookings High School

Jen is a tremendous asset to the Brookings High School. You can always find her helping students or asking where she is needed. She helps put together BoysTown fundraisers for our students, enabling them to purchase prizes with the points they earn each day. She also seeks out donations from businesses to contribute to the program. Not only does the staff at BHS appreciate her, but the students do as well. Jen is a shining example of what a skilled Behavior Technician looks like and I am honored to get to work along side her.
